

WHAT'S YOUR BETTERWORLD ISSUE? CULTURE OF PEACE

"We have the ability to achieve, if we master the necessary goodwill, a common global society blessed with a shared culture of peace that is nourished by the ethnic, national and local diversities that enrich our lives."

-- Mahnaz Afkhami

There is so much going on for a better world all around us that the mainstream media never shares. Throughout history, there have been many social movements for change -- for democracy, for the abolition of slavery, women's rights, for peace and the environment. Many advancements have been made, but each of these and many other causes is just part of larger wish for a more peaceful, just and sustainable world.

The many diverse movements for a better world are beginning to converge, and a more holistic movement -- what UNESCO has described as a 'global movement for a culture of peace' -- is emerging.

'Culture of Peace' describes the goal of transforming our culture and way of life, so that working for a more peaceful, just and sustainable world becomes our planetary, national and individual goals.

The United Nations declared the first decade of the New Millennium as the 'International Decade for a Culture of Peace and Nonviolence for the Children of the World.' You can help to create a culture of peace. There are many paths to creating a better world. But every thing we do to make this world a better place makes a difference -- whether its big or small ... We can all be heroes for a culture of peace!
